

Print-at-home postcard

The UC Berkeley Library has something for everyone — learn more at ucberk.li/welcome.

This print-at-home postcard uses a photograph of Doe Library's famed reading room, which can also be found in the Library's digital collections at digital.lib.berkeley.edu. The digital materials you'll find here — images, text, audio, and video — enrich and support the work of Berkeley's faculty, researchers, students, and staff, and provide enduring value for intellectual inquiry, research, and discovery throughout the world.

PRINT-AT-HOME INSTRUCTIONS

- 1 After downloading this file to your computer, print Page 1 on a piece of cardstock paper.
- 2 If you'd like to print the back of the postcard, determine the direction of your printer's paper feed.
- 3 Place the same piece of cardstock back in your printer's paper tray to print the back of the card.
- 4 Now print Page 2 on the backside of your cardstock paper.
- 5 Cut out the postcard along the dashed lines.
- 6 Personalize your postcard, and be sure to add a postage stamp before you mail!
